

A large hexagonal lattice of points arranged in a circular pattern. Most points are black. A few points are highlighted in different colors: a yellow point at the top center, a red point at the top center, a purple point at the top center, and a purple point at the top center. The lattice is composed of many small hexagons, with the central point being a yellow hexagon. The overall shape is a large circle made of smaller hexagons.

